

REACTIONISTS RECOVER STRENGTH AND DEMAND STRONG REPRESSION

Russia's Empress Wants Autocratic Authority Transmitted to Her Son--Emperor on Anniversary of Accession Grants Amnesty.

RIOTING CONTINUES IN SOUTHERN PROVINCES

Last of Five Grand Dukes is Asked to Step Down and Out. Jews Continue to be Murdered and Robbed.

REGULATIONS FOR NEWSPAPER GUIDANCE WITHDRAWN

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—The national holiday today in celebration of the anniversary of the emperor's accession to the throne, was marked by a formal closing of the general strike in St. Petersburg.

The populace is calmer here, but rioting in the provinces, especially in the south, continues.

The spasm of revolutionary manifestations which everywhere signalized the promulgation of the promise of a constitution, played into the hands of Count Witte's enemies at court, who, though nominally in opposition, are beginning to talk of the necessity for the sternest measures of repression to prevent the whole country from being drawn into a vortex of revolution.

There is no truth in the report that the empress has fled abroad. According to reports the reactionaries have a powerful ally in the empress, who desires the autocratic powers handed down to her son.

Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovich, brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas, has been relieved of the post of head of the department of mercantile marine, which is to be merged with the new ministry of commerce. This probably accounts for the grand duke being relieved of his duty as head of that department.

He is the last of the quintette of grand dukes who have been relieved of their posts. Grand Dukes Alexis and Michael Nicolaievich having been already relieved of their posts, respectively as head of the navy and president of the council of the empire, and Grand Duke Vladimir having resigned as chief of the military division of St. Petersburg. Grand Duke Sergius was assassinated at Moscow last February.

The amnesty ukase has been signed.

GERMAN COLONY FOR RIO GRANDE VALLEY

R. S. de Campos and Albert Tenber, of Trinidad, Colo., are in the city, coming in from Santa Fe last night. They called at the office of The Evening Citizen this afternoon, and Mr. de Campos stated that he and Mr. Tenber, while at Santa Fe yesterday, visited the land office and inquired about some government land in the valley between this city and Socorro. He stated that they would go south, probably by wagon, tomorrow, and make a personal inspection of the land, and if they considered it good for farming purposes they would incorporate with a small colony of German farmers, now visiting in the east, to purchase the land and come to the Rio Grande valley as soon as possible.

ALLEGED WIFE DESERTER CHENEY IS DISCOVERED

The whereabouts of A. C. Cheney, who is alleged to have deserted a wife and child at Oakland, Cal., has been discovered, and The Citizen claims the credit for the discovery.

Mrs. A. C. Cheney wrote S. H. Lutz, local agent for the Santa Fe, inquiring if her husband was here. The Citizen published the letter last evening, and this morning Mr. Lutz was informed that a man by the name of Cheney was working on the Santa Fe at San Marcel, first division, in the Santa Fe south of this city. It was also ascertained that the same Mr. Cheney had been in Albuquerque up until Monday, and that he and a woman had occupied a tent near the east end of the Cent avenue viaduct on last Saturday and Sunday. That this Mr. Cheney is the deserting husband there seems to be little doubt.

'COON HUNT' PROPOSED FOR SPORT LOVING BRITISHERS

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 3.—Prince Louis of Battenburg, the members of his staff and the captains of his squadron, left this morning for Washington, to pay their respects to President Roosevelt. In the meantime the officers and men of the American squadron are doing their level best to entertain the minor officers and men of the British squadron. The relations between the visitors and their hosts are extremely cordial, and the utmost good feeling prevails. Many of the prominent citizens of this town have opened their houses to the visitors and there are many social functions on a small scale everywhere.

At the suggestion of Prof. N. M. Terry, head of the department of physics and chemistry at the Naval Academy, the officers of the American squadron have arranged a raccoon hunt for the entertainment of the visiting officers. They have enlisted the services of John Knadler, who is known as one of the most successful raccoon hunters in this vicinity, and he will be expected to guide the party to the lair of the coon. The expedition will start this evening, toward dusk. Mr. Knadler owns two very fine coon dogs. The British officers are very likely to find some sport, as it is very rare that a party guided by Mr. Knadler returns empty handed. As coon hunting is a rather strenuous sport, it is probable that a number of the officers who take part in the tramp will not be able to attend the ball which will be given in the armory on the following evening.

ARMY WILL LUNCH HIM SATURDAY AT WILLARD'S.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Reception by President Roosevelt at the White House, dinner at the British embassy, and a reception and dance at the British embassy, are features of today's program for Prince Louis of Battenburg.

A trip to Fort Myer for a cavalry drill and a reception by the commandant, Colonel Hartfield, will follow. Then will come a brilliant dinner at the White House in the evening.

EVERY SALOON IN COUNTY MUST OBEY SUNDAY LAW.

Business in regard to closing the saloons on Sunday was made more evident today when that official gave out a statement to the Citizen to the effect that he had made arrangements for the closing of not only the saloons in Albuquerque proper, but in every precinct in the county. The sheriff says he is not bluffing but that he is going to see that the law regulating the observance of the Sabbath is strictly obeyed by all saloon keepers alike, big and little.

CHRYSANTHEMUM LAND IS GLAD

Mikado's Birthday Celebrated With Great Enthusiasm.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS RULE DAY

Display of National Flower Included Millions of Blossoms.

EMPEROR REVIEWS THE TROOPS

Tokio, Nov. 3.—Today is the birthday of the mikado, and it is safe to say that the anniversary of November 3, 1852, on which day Emperor Mutsuhito was born, was never celebrated with so much enthusiasm and so generally as this year. Chrysanthemums ruled the day. The sixteen petaled chrysanthemum, being the crest of the emperor, the flower stands in high esteem in Japan, and is extensively used on the occasion of the emperor's birthday, to add beauty and color to the artistic decorations in which the Japanese excel.

The victorious ending of the war, but a few weeks ago, the warlike enthusiasm so recently rebuking by the triumphant return of the Japanese fleet, and the presence in the city of a large body of soldiers greatly contributed to give the celebration today a decidedly martial color.

As usual, the morning was devoted to a review of the troops on the Aoyama palace grounds. The streets through which the troops marched were gorgeously decorated with flags, banners and other artistic decorations and were lined with enormous crowds which cheered the brave soldiers with enthusiastic "banzais." The cheers of the crowd increased to a thundering roar, when the mikado, dressed in a military uniform, and surrounded by a brilliant staff, approached. Thousands of people surrounded the Aoyama palace to obtain a glimpse of the emperor and his suite and to see the troops, marching past the imperial stand in review.

One of the most attractive features of the celebration was the display of chrysanthemums in all parts of the city. Flowers of every hue and shade, from the height of a few inches to that of a tall man, were displayed in every street and transformed the city into a big flower garden. In the evening Baron Kusunoki, the minister of foreign affairs, will give a reception at the Imperial Hotel, to which three thousand persons have been invited.

NEW YORK JAPANESE ALSO PARTICIPATE.

New York, Nov. 3.—Consul General and Mrs. Sadazuchi Uchida will give a dinner to three hundred Japanese and American guests at Sherer's this evening in honor of the mikado's birthday. The representatives of the Tokyo papers in New York are included among the invited guests. The Japanese colony will hold private celebrations.

JAPANESE MINISTER OBSERVES IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Mr. Kogoro Takahara, the Japanese minister, will celebrate the mikado's birthday at the legation on N street, by giving a dinner to the members of the American colony in this city. The dinner will be strictly a national affair.

TRAIN DID NOT KILL MRS. TODD

New York, Nov. 3.—Coroner Scholer, following the autopsy upon the body of Mrs. Margheretta Todd, a rich woman who was found dead on the Reading tracks near Philadelphia, a week ago, today said that the woman could not possibly have been struck by a passing train. He said she could have easily been killed by some heavy weight falling on her while she was inert, or by the pressing of a knife against the ribs. The autopsy showed that the ribs had been fractured, together with the breast-bone. Her clothing had not been disarranged as would have been the case if struck by a train.

GERMANY WANTS TO AVOID TARIFF WAR.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Baron Von Sternberg, the German ambassador, is expected to present, in a few days, to the state department a basis upon which his government is willing to enter upon negotiations with the United States government for a new trade treaty, or some kind of an arrangement that will stave off the dreaded "tariff war," which otherwise department officials fear must begin within four months. Nothing is officially known as to the substance of Baron Sternberg's proposals.

LAWYER WON'T LET ARMOUR MAN ANSWER.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—George B. Robbins, of Chicago, president of the Armour car lines, was called as a witness today in the private car lines inquiry before the interstate commerce commission. Robbins had testified that the Armour car lines operates 12,500 cars, and was about to answer a query as to the capital stock of the company, when Attorney Eichenman, for the Armour company, interposed with the objection that the western Armour car line was not engaged in interstate commerce, and averred, therefore, that the commission had no jurisdiction. Robbins also testified in support of Eichenman's contention, and under instructions from his counsel, refused to answer a number of questions.

IT MUST MEAN REMOVAL OF YARDS

Steps are now being taken which point to the early removal of the Santa Fe yards south three-quarters of a mile, as announced by The Citizen some weeks ago. The grounds for this statement are that R. J. Parker, general superintendent of the western division of the Santa Fe, and Superintendent James Kurn, of the Rio Grande division, are spending some time in the city and are acting quickly.
